Founder & Business Owner

Delhi, India

- Founded and independently managed an ethnic fashion brand offering kurtis, kaftans, suit sets, and sarees — overseeing sales, procurement, customer service, and brand operations end-to-end.
- Built and nurtured a loyal customer base through personalised consultations, proactive follow-ups, and consistent service quality, driving high repeat-purchase and referral rates.
- Planned and executed seasonal sales campaigns and product launches, meeting and exceeding sales targets across multiple cycles.
- Managed vendor relationships, procurement, and inventory to maintain product quality and availability while optimising costs.
- Handled all inbound customer queries, feedback, and escalations with professionalism, maintaining a strong satisfaction record.
- Grew the brand through community engagement, word-of-mouth networking, and strong interpersonal presence.

Key Achievements

- Scaled Flowing Fabrics from a solo venture into a recognised ethnic fashion brand with a steady, loyal clientele over 18+ years.
- Maintained high customer satisfaction and strong retention rates by consistently delivering personalised, attentive service.
- Successfully managed end-to-end business operations — from supplier negotiations to last-mile customer delivery — independently and without formal support staff.
- Demonstrated strong commercial instincts by identifying seasonal demand trends and aligning inventory and promotions accordingly.
